

The Non-Separable Case

support vector classifier:
using a so-called soft margin to almost separate the classes

Support Vector Classifier

allows us to classify data that is not linearly separable

